AZUREUS STRIKES DEAL WITH MINISTRY OF SOUND TO DELIVER TV, MUSIC AND LIFESTYLE SHOWS FROM AROUND THE WORLD

Dance Music Fans Can Experience Nonstop Ibiza Party Season With Exclusive Access on Vuze

Palo Alto, Calif. – May 22, 2007 — Azureus, a global leader in aggregating and distributing long-form, high quality video via the Internet's most popular media peer-to-peer (P2P) application, today announced a content agreement with Ministry of Sound TV (MoSTV), the first digital content provider for dance music entertainment. Content from MoSTV including behind the scenes access to music videos, exclusive interviews and footage from the Ibiza party season will be available on Azureus' video sharing site, Vuze (www.vuze.com), a premier broadband distribution platform that enables a global community to share and discover unique high quality content.

Vuze will feature a MoSTV channel with hours of exclusive content created specifically for this platform. Users can also gain access to the hottest parties in Ibiza with 24/7 coverage and VIP access to every club, D.J. and party. Ministry of Sound will have the only crew with this unlimited island access and Vuze's community of users can experience all the action in High Definition in Azureus' download environment.

"With a built-in global user base of millions, Vuze is the perfect destination for MoSTV to share its content with fans of dance music from around the world, enabling them to comment on and rate their favorite segments," said Gilles BianRosa, CEO, Azureus. "Ministry of Sound has an impressive history and we are proud to further extend the brand by making its content available digitally to more people and allowing them to interact with others who share similar interests."

Launched in November 2006, MoSTV is an IPTV content offering. The channel is dedicated to dance music and lifestyle programming, featuring music videos, mini-documentaries, interviews with DJs and exclusive event coverage. MoSTV has an in-house production team, but also acts as an aggregator of content.

"With more than 15 years in existence, Ministry of Sound certainly understands longevity," said Assia Grazioli-Venier, Head of MoSTV. "We recognize that to continually engage current fans and also attract new ones requires us to deliver the latest entertainment in innovative ways. Vuze is the perfect platform to do this with its social networking tools and millions of users. We look forward to continuing to move our brand forward with this partnership."
